MGFCOWG BYCK!

Varsity and JV cheerleaders clapping it up.

These students crowd to get first pick at lockers.

Jared Muela and Pat Fogaty are just pumped at the rally.

Coach I. and Barika Hamilton look on as Mike Young leads the crowd in a cheer.

Eager freshmen await to get their new high school I.D.

A.S.B. proudly watches the teachers Macerana.

Sophomore John Seoane giving us his best pose.

Hi Brad.

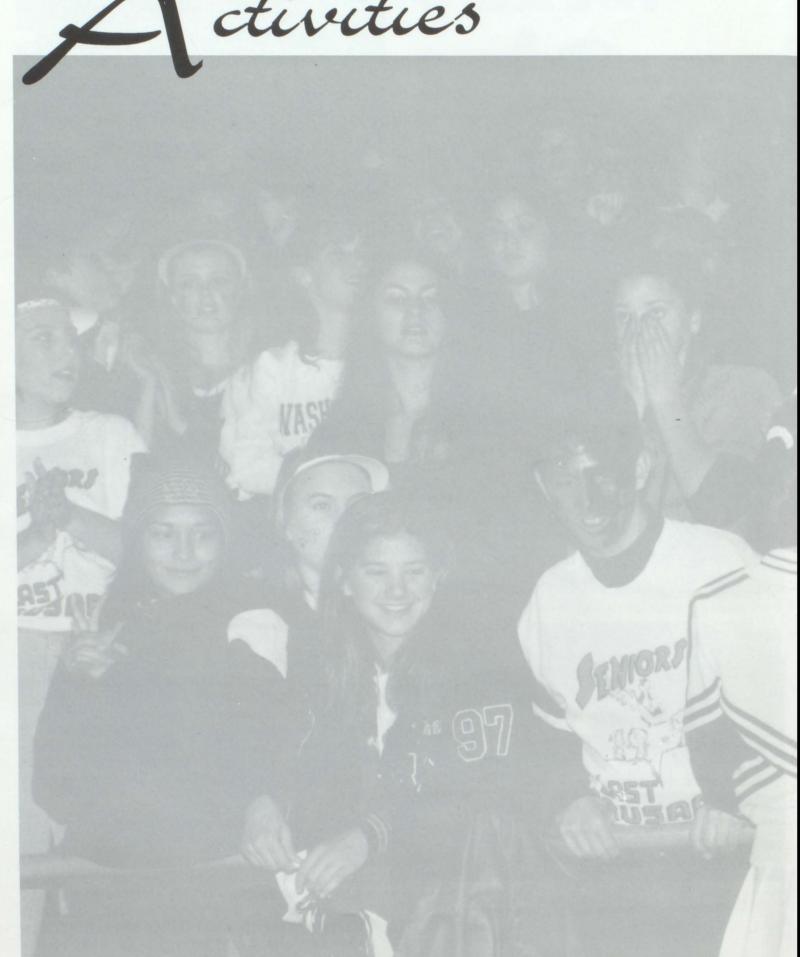

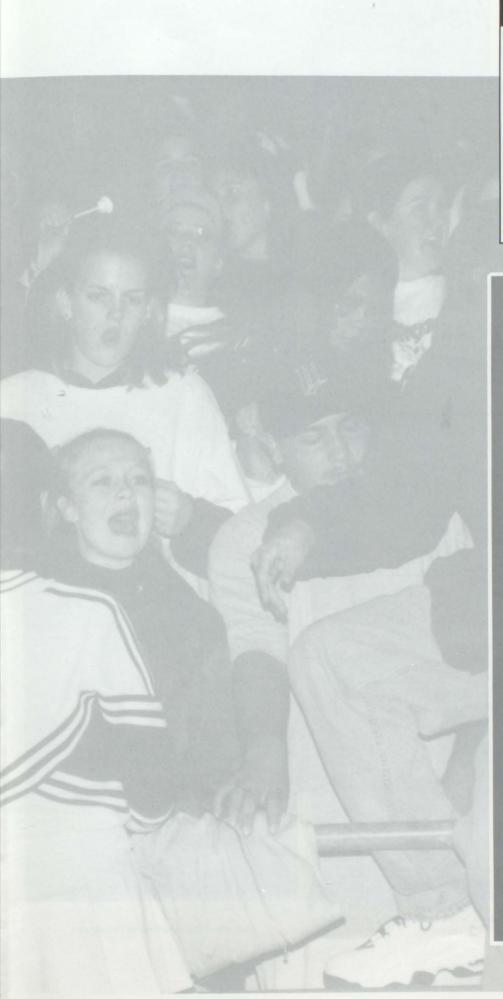

Hank leads the teachers in the Macerana.

To start off the school year, each of the Huskies must go through Orientation. The freshman walked through eager to start their first year of high school. Sophomores were just happy they weren't Freshman anymore. The Juniors were just excited to be upper classmen. And the Seniors just couldn't believe that this was going to be their fourth and final year here at Washington High School.

At the Welcome Back rally Principal Mike Martin couldn't top his limo ride entrance from last year, but still managed to surprise everyone by popping out of a giant gift box. A cast of new teachers were introduced. They were welcomed with a contest to see which of them could hula hoop the best. If that wasn't enough, all of the teachers got together and did the Macarena. There were also games and activities for each of the classes to compete in. All together it was a great start to the new school year.

From Sport assemblies to Drama Productions to lunchtime activities to special speakers in the Career Center, Student activities gives weary students a chance to think about something besides the 500 Page Eye Search paper that's due and the pile of Calculus homework.

Lunchtime activities is one of the activities that lets students do something else besides the usual food eating and general hanging around. With cultural dancers during spirit week and limboing and watermelon eating contests just for the heck of it, lunchtime activities are a nice change from the usual hum-drum lunch.

Another activity that makes students come in herds is school dances. Starting off with the casual Hello Dance (or in this year's case, the Aloha Dance) people had the opportunity to get out and dance their worries away! In addition that, people had the chance to get "leid"! Yup, the dance even provided leis to the first 50 comers ... how nice!

Clubs provide a chance for students to get more involved in the school. With cultural clubs, community service clubs, language clubs, academic clubs, and etc., our school provides the chance to get in the club of your choice.

Spirit week is the classic example of the best of the best for student activities. Getting us prepped for spirit week allows students to go into class dressed up as a nerd and not make em feel like a nerd, allows students to whoops and holler during classes without teachers thinking it a fight, and lets students have fun!

Hello Dance

Nicole, Amber, Christina, Kirstin, Jennifer, and Jamie take a break from dancing to pose for a quick picture.

Diana Cangco and Biji John dance the night away.

Homecoming Nominees

Homecoming 1997 came around with the usual whispers of excitement. The question "Who is going to be nominated?" flew through the halls and into the Government/Econ classes. We wondered and waited until the 12 girls and 10 guys were finally announced and then presented on a rainy Friday afternoon. AND THE NOMINEES ARE ...

Selena and Arthur strut their stuff.

"You are so beautiful to me ..." thinks Rail Briggs as he escorts Vanessa down the runway.

M. Young, M. Buchner, T. Burns, M. Jew, B. Yee, J. Rudnicki, D. Saalfrank, Z. Mullick, W. Kellogg, R. Gonzales, J. Noyola

Angela Krulc and Brittany Freeman pause for a moment to pose.

Katie and Tommy demonstrate the meaning of ultimate cool.

Melissa is VERY excited about being a nominee. Is Dave?

"Hmmm  $\dots$  she's MY woman  $\dots$  yeah  $\dots$  " thinks a proud Dan Skubal.

Erin and Matt flash their pearly whites for their adoring fans.

Gee-Mike's good at this modeling stuff.

THE GALS: M. Schilling, E. Holmes, L. Beagles, S. Baca, M. Chudgar, V. Garrison, K. Little, K. Sheppard, F. Cimino, J. Gollinger, B. Seoane, D. Cangco.

"Step right and left, and right and left, and right  $\dots$ "

Biji and Donna-the tall and short of things.

With one arm linked with Brian's, Lisa Beagles thinks, "This is so cool."

Jena gazes adoringly at Eric, unaware that the spotlight is on her.

"Did you hear that Micheal Jackson's having a baby?"

Franchi, Bri, and Katie hoot and howl at the crowd.

The distinguished Mr. Sheppard shows off his lovely daughter, Katie.

Vanessa Garrison watches the game anxiously.

Princess Franchi is workin' the runway.

Donna Cangco is overwhelmed when crowned Homecoming Queen.

"We're going to Disneyland!" yells Monica Chudgar.

Megan Walton is lookin' good for the Juniors.

Brad Johnson and Jeff Moran can't contain themselves.

"Seniors rule!" exclaims Fannie Huang.

The crowd is tense as they await the spirit week results.

HOMGCOMING DANCE

Congrats Bruce!

Let's stay together; yeah, yeah, yeah!

Coming 'atcha!

Let's always stay friends.

Hey, what's up!

All a bunch of smiles.

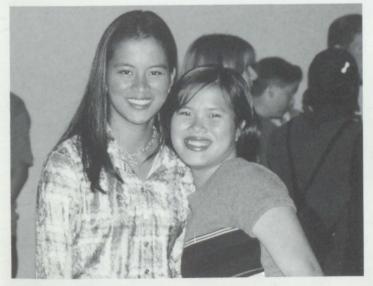

What a cute bunch of guys!

No masks! Where's your spirit?

"I thought the theme was to dress in black," said the blind man.

Dancing was never so much fun!

Cheerios! A honey bunches of oats!

All dressed up and ready to boogy.

The theme "Masquerade," the night November 2, 1996; the plan, to have fun and get down and boogy. Peak-a-boo, Who are you? That was the conversation starter of the evening. The mystery was to guess which pretty face was behind each mask. The music was jamming and feet were prancing to their favorite tunes of the season. Even though this was the last Homecoming Dance for the class of 1997 it didn't stop them from making the most of the evening. Overall everyone seemed to have a good time together.

Husky Spirit

Orange and black day marked the end to an exciting Spirit Week filled with all sorts of wild and crazy festivities. The costumes and skits were all impressive, making the competition fierce. There is no better way to end a week of competition than to bring all four classes together. Orange and Black day united the classes into one so all students could display their Husky pride together. The enthusiasm everyone exhibited during this fun-filled week proves there is no match for the pride of the Washington Huskies.

Freshmen Spirit

The Freshman cranked it up for their first Spirit Week and showed their Husky Pride. The arrived at school with cowboy hats and boots on Hick Day. Some Freshman were evil and some were angels on Heaven/Hell Day. On Wednesday, when it came time for their skit, they stepped up to the challenge had a great time, and surprised many fellow students. There seemed to be alot of confused Freshman on Vice/ Versa Day. Throughout the week you would always hear loud chants of Freshman spirit. All together the little pups came ready and willing to show the other classes that the class of 2000 was not going down without a fight.

A very serious freshman thinks her class is number 1.

Two Freshman dance their hearts away during their skit.

Several Freshman girls surround Hank during the skit.

Jennifer Rodriguez yells so loud she surprises the girl next to her.

The Freshman crowd is eager to show their spirit on Hick Day.

Penny flexes her muscles as other Freshman snicker.

The little Pups are getting ready to win the game for Hank.

Tonya throws her hands in the air as other Freshman follow.

Andrew Weaver asks, "Who are you pointing at?" to Jennifer Rodriguez.

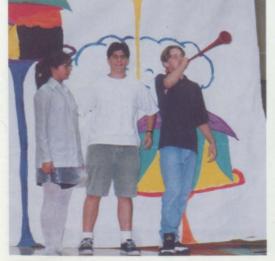

John Tai says, "Ripper," as he smiles for the picture.

Lara Kellog comes running out of the time machine ready to please the crowd.

Todd Beck toots his flute as other Freshman look on.

"Hey I can't see in this thing," says a confused Freshman as the other Pups pump themselves up.

Sophomore Spirit

Let the class of 1999 ... "Open your eyes, take you wonder by wonder, over sideways and under on a magic carpet ride ..." The sophomores started off Spirit Week on Monday with their skit day. All of the people who were not in the skit supported their class by wearing all black on Black Day. On Tuesday, Western day, the cowboys and cowgirls got to rope some broncos. They also got to root for their favorite teams on Jersey Day. Finally on Thursday the spirited sophomores got to roll out of bed and come straight to school in their pajamas on P.J. Day. To end their week, the sophomores wore orange and black and showed their Husky Spirit.

Stephanie Pinto and her friends smile for us on jersey day.

Joel Ledgewood showing his husky spirit.

Brian can't quite remember what he was supposed to say.

Looks like these huskies just got out of bed.

Look at these lovely young ladies.

Vick is showing off some more fancy foot work.

Class of "99" shows off their spirit.

Junior Spirit

The juniors started off spirit week with beach day. Some the dudes and dudettes arrived at school in some radical beach wear. On Tuesday the students that did not participate in the skit looked like a bunch of bums on hobo day. The junior skit was titled "The Twilight Zone" It was full of episodes from Saved By the Bell, The Flinstones, Happy Days, and cool tunes from Soul Train. On Wednesday, the juniors dressed up in mess shirts, Adidas jump suits, and baggy pants "sike" for 80's day. For Mafia day, the juniors caravaned to school in their Cadillacsand brought chills down other students backs as they roamed the halls chanted "Juniors." Over all the spirit of juniors cam in at a third place victory over the freshman for spirit week of 96.

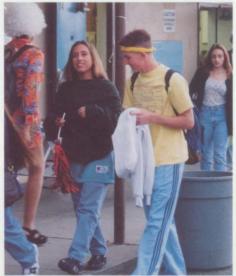

Who said white guys can't jump?

Senior Spirit

The Seniors marched proudly into Spirit Week disguised in their fatigues. It was Army Day! On Tuesday, they could be found squeaking around the halls on roller skates and squinting through broken glasses as they dressed for Nerd Day. 70's Day brought out their disco fever as they jammed to "Stayin' Alive". The day of their skit dawned in ancient Egypt as they searched for the Golden Paw in safari garb. Of course, the seniors ended the week covered in Orange and Black-they were waiting for victory!!!

Nerds in Physics laughing over the quantum theory!

Jennifer & Erica: best friends forever we are!!!

Seniors pledging alliegence to the flag.

Senior Chanel folds the CK display at Macy's.

Junior Geoff Garcia loves working with kids at Prince of Peace Daycare.

Senior Molly Jamal neatly fixes the mens department at Macy's.

Junior Megan and Senior Donna join in on the fun at Daniel Reynolds.

How many of us dread when it's time to work? Well for those of you that still depend upon mommy and daddy consider yourself lucky. School and working is hard many times. This means missing out on Friday nights or that big party. Or that television show that has you hooked, every Thursday night. I know the only fun day about going to work is pay day. That's when all the hard work pays off. Or when you walk in to Contempo or Doumitts and can buy anything you please. So when all your friends are broke, hey at least you will have money. Working will prepare you for the future, which is the most important thing of all.

*Jenny Wang*

Jenny Wang is one of the editors of Youth Today-An award winning teen magazine produced solely for and by Fremont teens. Jenny doesn't merely edit articles, but she also organizes and conducts the meetings. Jenny has been with the group since the beginning of her Junior Year. "It's an excellent team to work with and all the staff members are very dedicated."

*Katie Wong*

Katie Wong volunteers her time once a week to help out at the Tri-City Animal Shelter. Each week, she volunteers for about 4 hours, cleaning out animal cages, showing animals to be adopted by loving families, feeding animals, and doing basically anything that needs to be done. Katie has donated about 60 hours of her time to the Animal Shelter. "It's all worth it to see both a happy person and a happy pet!"

*Franchi Cimino*

Francesca Cimino has been involved in the Youth Advisory Commission for 5 years. YAC voices the needs and wants of Fremont Teens to the city council. Through all her hard work and dedication, she became the YAC chairperson 2 years ago. YAC helps by sponsoring city wide activities, and organizing the annual Jr. High Youth Conference. Franchi is also involved in her church youth commission.

*Lisa Hsu*

"Make your mark on the world, not on a wall!" We've all seen these an anti-graffiti posters up at school and around the city. Lisa Hsu is one of the Fremont teens responsible for designing these colorful posters. She's also worked to clean-up existing graffiti. She's donated about 30 hours of her time to painting over graffiti at various sites throughout the city. Lisa is also active at the Fremont Main Library, and the American Cancer Association.

*Jason Hunter*

Jason Hunter has spent the last four years as a member of the Youth Service Corps-A teen community service program that works to keep our city free of weeds, garbage, and graffiti. He has given almost 500 hours of service to the city. Due to all his hard work and dedication, in 1995, the city awarded him with the "Robert Crenshaw" award, and in 1996, the city selected him to be one of the 10 teens that would represent Fremont in the All American City Award Competition. "I first joined so I'd have something fun to do in the summer, and now I look forward to it every year."

*Staci Choe*

Staci Choe is an active volunteer at the Tri-City Homeless Coalition and has been since the end of her Sophomore year. She volunteers about 10 hours a week, watching and playing with kids, or working at the front desk. During the 1996 elections, she worked for the Fremont Headquarters of the Democratic Campaign. She volunteered for 8 hours a week for a couple of months. She's also a member of N.O.W., and helps with food drives during the holidays.

Lunch is 40 minutes of what ever you want them to be. Will it be McDonalds or Taco Bell today. But lunch is not just about eating. Here at Washington we have lunch time activities, fashion shows, football rallies, and multicultural week. Lunch time isn't always about pigging out but spending time with your friends and checking that cute guy or girl you like. Just remember don't forget you have 5th and 6th period, so come back!!!

Washington High School held it's third annual Multicultural Week on March 10-14. The purpose of Multicultural Week is to help educate students of a variety of other cultures. The week was kicked off with the annual Food Faire, where volunteers prepared ethnic dishes to be sold to students interested in sampling foods from around the world. On Tuesday, we were able to attend an assembly featuring a Tai Kwon Do demonstration, and Korean acrobats. Throughout the course of the week, several dances were performed during lunch that demonstrated a variety of cultures. The week ended on Friday with the Multicultural Fashion Show organized by ASB which featured fashions from around the world. Due to everyone's support and enthusiasm, the fashion show and the rest of the week was a huge success.

Washington High School has proven time and time again to be one of the most diverse high schools in Fremont. Due to the many different interests of the students, Washington offers a number of clubs and organizations for its student body to become a part of, to pursue their interests, develop everlasting friendships, and to strengthen the spirit of our school.

If you're interested in learning about other cultures, then you can join the Asian Cultural Association, the African American Cultural Association, or if you want to travel to France, you can join the French Club. If you like to help others when problems arise, you can become a Peer Counselor. Or maybe you would like to learn about our country's government and travel to Washington D.C. for a week, then you could join Close-Up. To be a club member, the only thing you have to do is to regularly attend meetings and sometimes pay a membership fee.

One of the largest and most active organizations on campus is the Associated Student Body. ASB works to make our four years in High school more enjoyable. If it weren't for them, we probably wouldn't have very many activities outside of class. ASB organizes our lunchtime activities, dances, rallies, and plans our budget for the year. They also help to get new clubs started around campus.

So don't just float on through high school, become active in things you enjoy doing. Set goals and make your best effort to achieve them. If you set the sky as your limit, you can achieve anything you want to.

ACA

The Asian Cultural Association (a.k.a. A.C.A.) welcomes students of all nationalities to come learn about the Asian cultures. In the past, club members have taken field trips to San Francisco to visit the Japanese Tea Garden, the Asian Art Museum, and Chinatown. The club members learn about the various Asian cultures by preparing and tasting Asian cuisine, making origami, discussing various Asian languages, and attending cultural events. The club also actively participates in school events such as Multicultural Week and Club Awareness. As part of our fundraiser last year, ACA introduced the Chinese custom of passing out money envelopes. Overall, the goal of ACA is to help students better their understanding of the diverse Asian cultures.

JSA

The Junior Statesmen of America is a nonpartisan, nonprofit, student run organization founded nearly sixty years ago. It is sponsored jointly by high schools and the Junior Statesmen Foundation as a club. The purpose of the organization is to teach high school students about government, to help them develop and polish their leadership skills to encourage critical thinking, and to transmit the knowledge necessary for active, informed citizenship. JSA members participate in several regional and state conventions each year. These activities are open to all high school students that are interested. Junior State conventions feature discussions, debates, and the opportunity to question political leaders. Conventions attract hundreds of Student Delegates and last several days.

Amnesty International

The students of Amnesty International work along with 1800 other campus chapters in the U.S. to promote awareness of political imprisonment, torture, and the death penalty. Worldwide, students are imprisoned for similar human rights activism. This year they have written letters to foreign officials, sent greeting cards to political prisoners, collected petitions, sent letters to President Clinton.

COMP

The purpose of the Computer/Online/Multimedia People (COMP) Club, which we have succeeded in accomplishing since our founding early in the 1996-1997 school year, is to learn more about computers and the Internet and to have fun. We meet almost every Friday to talk about what we've been doing as a club and what we'd like to see the club do in the future. Our primary goal has been to set up the school web page (http://www.geocities.com/athens/ 6269). Our members as of yet are few--we may be the smallest club at WHS--but our spirit and dedication show through at our club meetings and in our work on the school home page, which is quickly expanding. To join the club, all you need is an interest in computers, a willingness to learn, and a hunger for the vast knowledge available thanks to the technological revolution of the Internet.

CSF

CSF is more than a club. It is a statewide organization which helps its members to further their enjoyment of high school and to give them the opportunity to receive scholarships. CSF stands for California Scholarship Federation. As a club here at Washington, we make our member's lives more fun with the activities we create. Some of which are the after school tutorials which help both the tutor and the one being tutored. Each semester we also have a field trip to a fun yet educational site in the Bay Area. Periodically, we will also host other fun activities such as barbecues which are exclusively for CSF members. Seniors who have been within our organization for a set amount of semesters are able to apply for a lifetime membership and for a scholarship which we award to those who have been involved in CSF activities and made a difference in the club as a whole.

DECA

Deca is a merchandising and marketing club at Washington. Deca helps to prepare students for careers in the future. The members may talk about various subjects such as advertising, communications, and management. Deca helps students learn leadership characteristics, self-confidence, and provides them with an understanding of the competitive enterprise system. Deca members also have competitions with other schools in such categories as advertising and display, general marketing, and apparel and accessories. Deca was the first step towards a successful future.

Peer Counseling

The Peer Counseling Club is a club that focuses on helping your peers feel good about themselves. It's about helping students get through tough situations in life and making a difference in their decisions. The members in this club are trained to be able to talk to individuals with problems and help them in any way they could. Our goal is to try to help as best we can. Peer Counselors are also involved in helping incoming freshmen students and new students get around the campus. There is training every year for new members. New members receive a membership card of their graduation for completing the training. The Peer Counseling Club is a lot of fun once you become a member.

French Club

In the French Club we participate in activities that help expand our knowledge on the French culture. Students who join have to be interested in learning about France and the French culture. You do not need to speak French to join. Everyone is welcome! We enjoy learning about French food by participating in cooking activities, also, our biggest trip of the year is to the opera to go see PHANTOM OF THE OPERA. If you join the French Club you will learn new and interesting facts about people you never knew about. Our meetings are usually held every Friday at lunch, unless there is a school function. If learning about other cultures interests you and the French culture is high on your list, come to the meetings. We would love to have you, and hope that you will enjoy it.

Have you ever wanted to do something that would make a difference but didn't know what to do?

Well, there's a club on campus that does that much and more. It's called Interact, an international organization of Rotary sponsored service clubs for teens. There's four sections; community, environmental, international, and school. Our activities range from feeding the poor to adopting children overseas to providing Toys for Tots to working at the Special Olympics to cleaning beaches and much more. One of our major projects this year was to provide canned foods for the 2nd annual Trick-or-Treat canned food drive. We collected an estimated 12,000 cans in coalition with neighboring high schools. In addition to this, we have a Fall Leadership Conference and a Spring Banquet with the 50-60 other clubs in Northern California. Furthermore, we have a bi-monthly "Interactor of the Month" award that provides the winner with a $100 savings bond. In order to become a member, attend two meetings and one project.

MIDCHA

M.E.C.H.A. was established for the 1st time this year at WHS. The objectives of the Club are to teach and learn about many different aspects of the Chicano and Latino cultures. M.E.C.H.A. is a nationwide recognized club focusing on the ongoing changes politically and amongst our people. M.E.C.H.A. follows the plan of Santa Barbara, which sets forth the plan to come over the struggles our people face. The club dedicates a lot of time into our communities and environment around us.

Writer's Club

Hello all you pen happy people! I've turned on the computer and typed up a few words to tell you about an organization which might interest you. It's called the Writer's Club. All you people who just went "ewwww," this probably won't interest you, but feel free to read on anyways.

"What is it exactly?" you wonder as you look at all of these goobers in the picture. I'm one of them, but I won't tell you who. The Writer's club is working on putting together a literary magazine or, in English, a magazine containing pieces written by you fellow Huskies. Our job is to create pieces you turn in, write our own pieces, and most importantly to put it all together in a creative manner. The product: a magazine with flair. It's actually pretty cool! We meet every Wednesday at lunch (most of the time, anyways!) and work on our masterpiece.

Have you ever wondered what the Mock Trial was that was announced in the school bulletins? The Mock Trial was a competition between students from various high schools to prove who can be the future lawyers, judges, and even bailiffs. Consisting of 17 seniors from Mr. Vargas' government class, WHS competed against high schools such as MSJHS and Foothill HS. Their two months of hard work paid off. We came in sixth place overall in the competition. It's planned that next year the Mock Trial will be open to both Juniors and Seniors. So get your gavels ready and listen for announcements!

"Can I help you." says Carleen Jung

Beep, Beep, Beep!! The annoying alarm clock screeches at you to get out of bed. Luckily you have enough energy to roll over and hit the snooze button, but wait! It's Monday, time for another exciting week of school. You manage to roll out of bed, get dressed, and grab your books. Then, you realize you didn't have any homework over the weekend so you don't have anything to worry about. The tardy bell rings just as you make it in the door of your first period class. You sit down, out of breath, and begin to fall asleep when the worst two words you ever heard are said by your teacher-"Pop Quiz!"

This may not be a usual day for every-body, but everyone's gone through the stress of completing homework assignments on time, getting to class on time, or just plain trying to remember to bring your P.E. clothes to school. All these things are what prepares us for our journey into the real world. Whether you plan to further your education at a College or University, or plan to head straight into the work force, your experience here at Washington has built up skills and confidence that will be beneficial to your future.

Besides all the required academic classes, which teach us basics such as balancing double variable equations, translating Shakespeare, and learning bout the death of John F. Kennedy, Washington also offers a wide range of electives that suit the interests of almost anybody. To teach us all these important skills, the dedicated faculty here at Washington spends extra time working with students to help you learn how to write a more effective essay, or how to solve that stubborn equation.

We each spend approximately 4,300 hours taking tests and taking notes during lectures to earn a diploma. With this diploma, you can do almost anything, or go almost anywhere you want to. Just remember that when you're planning your future to set the sky as your limit, and you'll be able to accomplish anything.

ART

Art is so much Fun!

Jasaphra Buum works carefully.

Art is a rewarding class for any student that enjoys or appreciates the hard work of an artist. Some people believe that art is just for those with artistic ability, but art is for everyone! (Even for those who believe they can't draw a line!) Art introduces students to the different skills from paintings, to pottery. Art lets students express their feelings and themselves. After a year of art, students really feel like they accomplish their goals in becoming artists.

Photo is a class offered to everyone including those who think they can't work a camera. Photo is not just about taking pictures and being with friends. It's about how to make those pictures come out. During photo students learn techniques involved with taking pictures, developing film, and making prints. Students also learn at the beginning how to make a camera from every day materials. After this çlass, students come out knowing how to take professional pictures. And it's all worth it at the end.

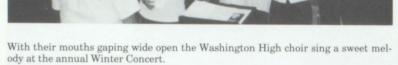

They'll be better next time. says Gary Bailey.

Rocio Vargas and Lina Ruelas look at the way they took there pictures.

CHOIR R

Standing tall the members of the Washington High Choir can be heard using their harmonious voices. Under the direction of Mr. Mitchell, they are routinely led throughout their scales and then led on to more difficult pieces. Washington offers both beginning and advanced choir as electives. Beginning choir is open to any student who may wish to further enhance their musical knowledge and individual talent.

Paul Gattey is full of enthusiasm. He could hardly contain his excitement and almost forgot his cue.

Mr. Mitchell runs a tight ship as shown by the professional manner of his choir.

Always on the move, Mr. Mitchell is in charge of the reputable music program at Washington. He is the director of our band. Taken as an elective course, the band meets for practice everyday, playing a variety of concerts, excerpts, compositions, and elaborate pieces. The talent levels vary, but one thing is for sure, every member of the Washington high band is motivated and willing to put in extra effort to add to the success of the class.

Washington's 1997 Brainbowl Competition was one of the most exciting tournaments in W.H.S.'s history. Eighteen teams comprised of 72 people from all grades competed during a 20 minute match, consisting of questions about history, science, and the arts. The names of the teams ranged from "Purple Monkey Dishwasher" to "Las Borrachas Cucarachas." The matches themselves got pretty competitive, and many students took the competition very seriously. In the end, "Squish" won by five points, answering the bonus question correctly. "Erarre Humanum Est" came in second.

From Football to swimming, from gymnastics to soccer, Huskies know how to play sports. Time and time again, many of our athletes find that hard work pays off as they find there way to league finals and championships. After enduring grueling hours in the classroom building brains all day, these athletes still find the time and energy to devote to sports, while maintaining a 2.0 grade point average. After getting through days of stressful tryouts and rigorous practices, huskies often shine and come out on top. Participating in sports also teaches us discipline, endurance, and teamwork, while we improve our talents. Our athletes represent a unique kind of school togetherness. The attitudes they carry reflect what we are. It also builds school unity as we unite to fight for a common purpose, the Mission Valley Athletic League Title, and even better, the NCS and State championships. Washington High School truly has Husky Spirit and strength. It is also important to know that sports are more a part of high school memories than just winning and victory. Yes, winning isn't everything, but the spirit felt at the games and meets is what carries us to victory, time and time again. We do lose on bad days, but we take them in and spit them out. We take them as learning experiences to help us improve for future victories. We represent over 100 years of proving ourselves worthy of the name HUS-KIES!

Senior cheerleaders entertain the crowd at halftime.

Superpuff XIV was both a win and a loss for the girls of the class of 1997. The scoreboard showed defeat but the seniors knew they had won. They had practiced hard for four weeks. Their coaches did their best to whip them into shape and to make the best use of the many talents they possess. They won the scrimmage and were psyched for the big game. The seniors came through with many strong plays, including two interceptions and a touchdown. They held off the juniors until the last quarter, even with a few sustained injuries. The senior girls may have lost the game, but knowing that this was the last time many of them would work (and play) together; in their heads they had won.

The Husky cross-country team bounded across the MVAL this year despite a change in coaching and a young team. Strong leadership from returning runners combined with the contagious enthusiasm of the underclassman on the team, were the key to a fun challenging year. Their success was due to the diversified training tactics of coach Larry Hiebert. As MVAL finals approached the frosh-soph boys were 4-2, the JV boys were 2-4, and the JV girls were 3-3. The varsity teams were just as successful with the girls record at 3-3, and the boys record at 3-3. They were expected to go far as the state championship grew closer.

Huskie Wrestling came alive this year under the leadership of captains James Choi and Marcos Flores. A new era of wrestling began this year by sending three wrestlers to North Coast Sectionals, James Choi, John Choi, and Cory Wilson. James Choi finished sixth in NCS. Under new coaches Bill Manela, Bill Choate, Coach Kimo, and Coach Speed, the program at WHS still exists. Although the Huskies had a tough season, they always seem to have a few quality wrestlers. The themes for this year were "NO EXCUSES," and "Pride, Dedication, and TEAM." The leaders next year will be John Choi and Cory Wilson.

BOY'S VOLLEYBALL

Doin' the Adam Bingle Shuffle!

plasses

The life of a high school student cannot be explained in mere words, but must be experienced for full understanding. What other time of one's life can you spend four years jam-packed with proms, crushes, cars, and homecoming games? From your first step into Freshman homeroom to crossing the stage at graduation, memories and friendships are made which will forever leave an imprint on our lives. As another year passes, we reflect upon what we have accomplished. Whether you are a senior shopping for a cap and gown, or a sophomore taking driver education at 6:30 AM, Husky students have always excelled in both the classroom and beyond.

As Freshman, we are thrust into unchartered territory filled with new faces and bigger, older peers. No longer are you the elite of the junior high, but mere stepping stones for the seniors.

Sophomore year is a time when you haven't quite reached the upperclassmen level, but are also no longer considered the lowly newcomer of the school. A turning point for most, Sophomore year is a time for sweet sixteen parties and rebellious independence with a driver's license.

As Juniors, the idea of college and the future looms before us, as SAT's, ACT's and financial aid forms are thrust our way. As the school year draws to a close, the Juniors are eagerly looking forward to becoming an elite Senior class.

Senior year is prime time in the life of a Washington Husky. There is Senior Ball, Senior Picnic, Senior Awards Night, and Senior Fling, to name a few of the many activities which the upperclassmen can participate. But the fun can come to an end all too soon, when final good-byes must be said on graduation day.

Despite popular belief, a school isn't made up of buildings, or even portables. It isn't the prominent pink gymnasium or the honorable Tak Fudenna stadium. Washington's true pride and integrity lies within the students, whose minds are stretched to its fullest potential under the guidance of its dedicated faculty and staff.

Class Of 2000

We came to Washington not knowing what exactly to expect. After the first few hectic weeks, we dove right into preparing for Spirit Week. We learned very quickly that long, sleepless nights and rushed poster-making sessions were the norm. But we did it! The Class of 2000 zoomed into the future with the Jetsons and lots of spirit. We showed the whole school that the pups had power and that while we may have been at the bottom of the dog pile this year, make way! We're going straight to the top! We continued to show our pride all through the year and we're ready to come back next year and ROCK THE HOUSE! We're hoping for more involvement and twice the spirit. Soon, but not too soon, the halls will be filled once again with our loud voiced cheering, "Let's go DOUBLE O!" THANKS FOR A GREAT YEAR!!

Sophomores

The magical carpet ride has finally landed for the Sophomores and what more can I say about our spirited, hard-working class?! Together, through thick and thin, we united to achieve our goals, and at the end, created some unforgettable memories we all can look back upon and treasure.

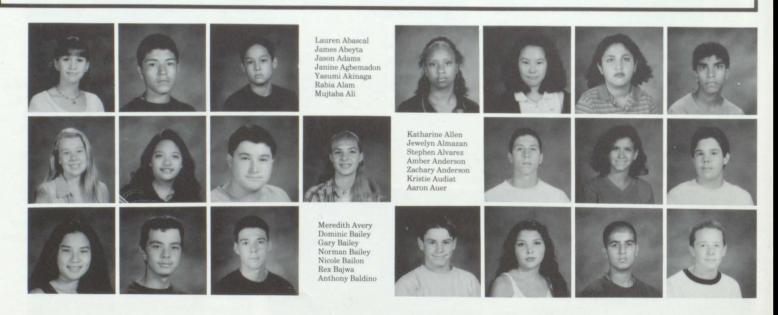

During Spirit Week, the halls rang with chants of "CLASS ... CLASS OF ... CLASS OF ... CLASS OF 1999 ..." and "SOPH-OMORES, WE'RE #1!" We performed a great skit which made Aladdin and our spirit come alive! The number of participants for our dress-up days were phenomenal and our enthusiasm showed our HUSKY PRIDE!

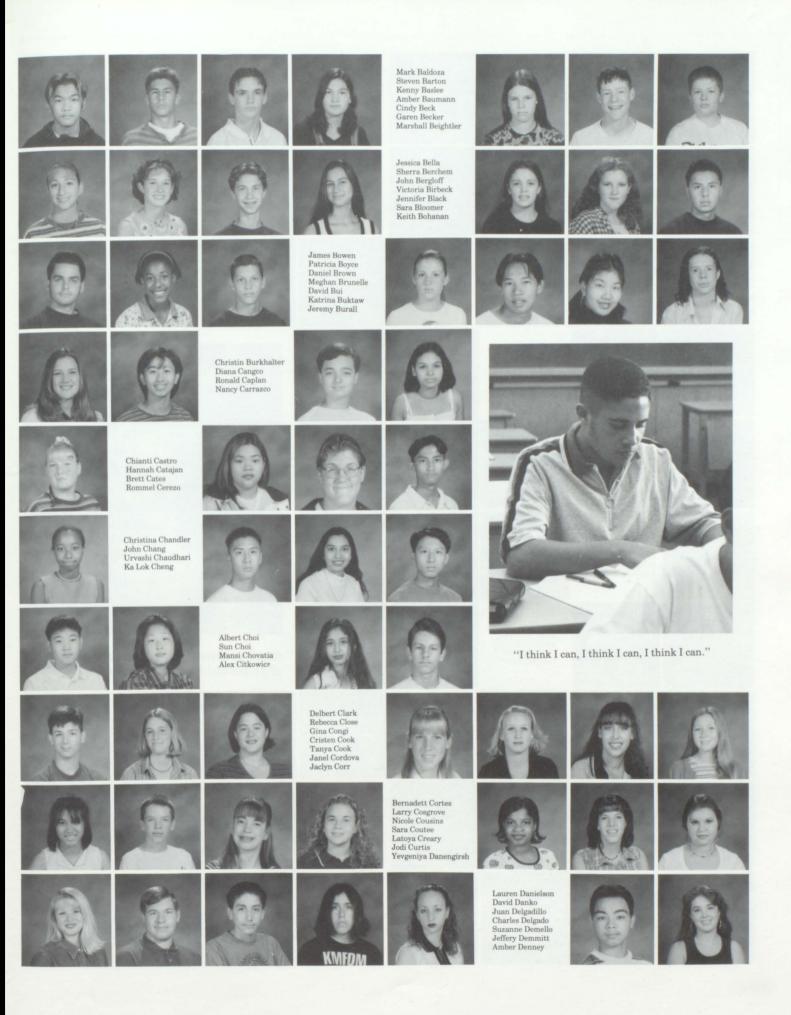

This year, sponsoring Winter Ball was an honor and gave us a great experience that added to our adventuresome sophomore year. The never-ending support and dedication from everyone made it all possible.

Juniors

Hey all you Juniors! What a year it has been. We've finally redeemed our skit! It was "da bomb" guys. We're pulling together and next year we're going to rock the school. Rock on Barney Rubble! Junior prom was excellent, dude. Can you believe we're seniors? Now we rule the campus, remember these years. They are the most carefree years we'll ever have. We are the greatest! Long live the class of 1998!

Underclassmen Autographs

Geniors

From our Freshmen Spirit Week to the Senior Ball, we have created many cherishable memories that none of us shall ever forget. As we sit reminiscing about our past four years here at Washington, we begin to remember all those times when we couldn't wait until Graduation Day. But now that the day is near, none of us are sure if we're ready to say goodbye. Our last few days here at Washington is the last time that we will all be together.

As a class, we have come a long way. But now it's time for each of us to begin our journeys down separate paths. Some paths will be more bumpy than others, but whatever your future may hold, remember to set the sky as your limit. You can achieve anything that your heart desires. You've proved it. You're graduating.

Congratulations to the Class of 1997!!!

-Jason Hunter

Our class has never been considered commonplace. We have artists, dancers, athletes, intellects-a multitude of talents and eclecticism in greatness. For four years we have never hesitated to be all involved and spirited, and it has shown in our success. In this year of our "Last Crusade," we have proved to the school who the best class is. Most important of all, we have come together one last time, as one entity, to make our last year the most meaningful. As the class of 1997 congregates for the last time at graduation, hopefully everyone will be looking on to better and brighter things and the memory of high school will be held with pleasant nostalgia. Don't forget-"Life is what happens when you are making other plans."

In Memory Of...

AFSOON JABARY 1978 - 1995

You have done it, Without a touch, Without a word, Without a sign. You have done it By being yourself. Perhaps this is what Being a friend means After all.

A special thanks to Sgt. Sheila Tajima-Shadle of the Fremont Police Dept. for her time and effort in making this drawing possible.

Senior Picnic

Camera Happy Seniors show their love for the camera.

Kim's enthusiasm for the volleyball game heightens, as the girls crush the opposition (the boys)

Bri can hardly wait to see Dan in his Speedo.

Say cheeeeeese.

Zack smiles in the shade.

"I love these Senior gatherings" exclaims Mike Fasolis.

Jessica leaps to new heights.

"These beans taste just like Moms" says Matt

Mauricio concentrates for the game.

Nausheen and Monica are all smiles as they float along the lazy river.

Run, Run, the volcanoes are erupting.

Gina, Jas, Regina cheeses for the camera.

Splish splash its a Senior Bash! On September 25th the class of 1997 kicked off their final year of highschool in a big way. Over one hundred Super Seniors boarded buses enroute to Waterworld USA in Concord on that chilly Wednesday. Giggles, gossip, and impromptu vocal performances kept everyone entertained for the duration of the bus ride. The Seniors faced off in a volleyball match girls vs. boys. Although it was close the whole way through, the Senior gals proved victorious. They were so hot in fact, the sprinklers were turned on them.

It was a "Surfs Up" way to start their Senior year!

Senior Breakfast

On February 11, the senior class took a break from school to meet at the Newark Pavillion for breakfast. A group of loving mothers organized the event that included doughnuts, fresh fruit, eggs, ham, and bagels. To drink you had your choice of milk, juice or hot chocolate. We ate, played games, and a few people won prizes. It was a great success and a well-deserved treat.

"You are getting sleepy ... very sleepy," Amy Pierce chants as Shaleah Petersen falls into a hypnotic trance.

Bri. Walker, Kristen, and Richard fight for a seat during musical chairs.

These senior guys are first in line to grub.

Karyn Mason, Lauren Herrmann, Kathy Sideris, and Maya Pandya kick back after breakfast.

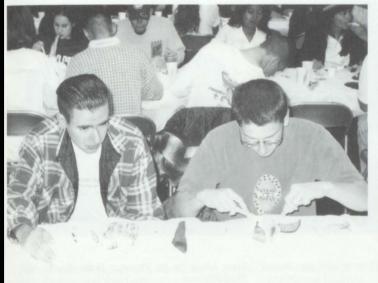

Jeff Rennels takes a whack at the pinata.

Senior as far as the eye could see.

A game of Simon says woke up the groggy seniors.

You guys are the best! One last ggodbye to the C21-MB crew-Lauren, Kathy, and Jenn, Tawm Weshtgard lovesh you! Go number 11! Love, Karvn Renee Things to remember. Never pet a burning dog. Life is like the mail, sometimes you just don't get it. Never spit into the wind. Never drink orange juice after brushing your teeth. If you get a hundred grand, eat it! Never wear a bikini on the Shotgun at Raging Waters. Spandex is a priveledge, not a right. In the immortal words of Socrates, "I drank WHAT?" Hanna, spell fuse box. Kolmivaihdekilowattituntimittari. Always, Faith, Karen, and Denise

Chanez, Ashley-U2 were there from start. Night B4 Frosh orientation: There's a clock there Gabi. All that insane chaos so worthless but no replacement that put Drama into Frosh days. 8th grade: Run away style and come back same night. Too cool. "Oh we're looking for our dog too." Nick nicknames: Dk. Fk., H.ON, CONDO. Peanut-don't fall off the lift! Muscularos! CC Buds-Joe, Steph, Franchi, Ben who? My B.F. Lindsey-what? Ummm. Uh Yeah! Oh sick! Fake! Your mom! Whaa-aat? Yeaah! My Last Words of Advice: Eat your fruit. Communication is key. Listen. Success is a journey, not a destination. Pasta is the world's most perfect food. E-mail is a blessing-if you check it. Nothing great was ever achieved without a little enthusiasm, motivation, dedication ... The future is in your hands. The Pumpkin Posse is the bomb. Don't hide your true colors. Be good. Don't ever give up. To the gang: I've learned so much from you guys (even if I didn't really want to know some of it.) I'll miss you more than you'll realize. Thanks for four awesome years. Hugs and Kisses-FRANCHI

Yeaha! I made it through high school alive. It wouldn't have been possible without the special people who helped me along the way. TNX to my family who put up with my violent mood swings and kind enough not to throw me out of the house. Teachers who pushed me to reach 4 the sky, I salute you. Lisa, my pal 'u' made bdmtn worthwhile. F.S. and Gymnastics would not have been interesting as the hair in my nose, Elaine 'u know what I mean, if not 4U. 2EMI, SHANEL, CHRIS, KATHY, EYA, PIA (mis amigas especiales) "salamat' 4making WHS interesting. It all went by so fast (thank goodness), and I'll never forget these four years. I'd like to thank Twa and Jennie for showing me things I never would have seen without them and the Drama Department (past and present) for drastically changing and improving my life. I love you all! I've had much fun and sorrow here. Good luck to everyone, and remember me if I ever make it to Stardom! "Ankh!" Love, R.G.

1997, It's actually over! Off into the world we go, but it's not really the world, it's just a bunch of banana slugs. Wasting time is an important part of life. LH-vou stayed by me, offering inspiration and support, I (your eternal admirer) will always appreciate it. NG-the web's always there, keep up your game instead, good luck with the Fission project! KW-great job this year!! You'll have fun wherever you go. ML-young life? I thought you were 18. *Grin* I'll miss ya. NF, BG-good luck in the years to come, keep the caffeine handy. Mrs. Nelson-the BBS, couldn't have done it without you. Love you, Love! Neil-I'll be there soon. Mom & Dad, it's been a rough ride, sorry, but I'll love you and I'll miss you, whatever happens. Serenity.-SpyderWeb

I would like to first praise the Lord Jesus Christ for all the things he has done in my life and all the years I have been at W.H.S. I can now say that this has been the best year of my life. I have gained friends who will keep my heart forever and friends who I will always remember. I want to say good luck in the future to all my fellow seniors and to my friends that still have years left at W.H.S., Hol on to the memories that you have made forever. I love you, Kristin Vigil, Krisena Mcintire, Melissa Vivian, Christina Park, Victoria Banda, Nicole Vegas. (You know who you are) and anyone I forgot to mention class of 1997 will always live strong in our hearts! (Don't forget.) To all the teachers. Thanks a lot. Love, Richard Kato

Congrats to graduates of class of 1997! Thank God for all the love and blessing. Sup Sup to all my buddies. Donna let's stop talking about you know what on the phone. Khinsanda always on the same brain waves. Annova don't forget sis who's next door. Diana shoes and eating too much @ Sr Ball 96. Bruce always trea-

My year in WHS is over, and it was one of the most memorable and best years of my life. There are so many people, to whom I want to say THANKS but I have a chance to say it to only a few people. My Family: Thanks for making this year possible. Thanks for all support and love you gave to me. I LOVE YOU ALL!! Dardens: Thanks for letting me live w/you and thanks for all the time you spent w/me. I'll never forget you. Thanks to all my teachers who had enough patience to help me. Jason: You are great friend, thanks for all the help you gave to me, Thanks for driving me places. Denise, Faith, Karen, Jessica, Nancy ... all of my friends at WHS. It was great to be your friend, All my friends: I'll miss you guys, Keep in touch, you can always call me, and ask how to spell fuse box. I'm sure we'll meet again! Luv Hanna

"It's the end of the world as we know it" Monica, Lia and Julie, February 4! Bri, I'll pay you 25 cents to put some clothes on! Cheryl, you're a peach. Put the pepper spray down. Cal Poly weekend was quite agricultural. Julie, I'm pendulum-ing. Once you start doing it on school nights it's a problem. Mike, I'm so together. First it was up to here, then it dropped to here, and now it's back up to here. You lost it at a party too? I'm getting my tubes tied so I can adopt. Heroine addict at age 69. Kathy, it's a fast day. Up for coffee again tonight? JSA conventions rock! Foreign film anyone? My daddy's gong to be in the Senior PGA. Chewy sweetarts are the best for the munchies. One last thing before you go ... As editors of the 1997 Washingtonian, we have many people whom we would like to thank for all of their time, help and support. There is no way on God's green earth that we could have accomplished such a task on our own. First off, we would like to thank Mr. Brower for giving us the wonderful opportunity of being editors of our Senior year yearbook. Our experiences throughout the year have helped us learn and grow. Thank you so very much for all of your support. And for all the extra hours on weekends and holidays. We shall never forget all the valuable lessons you have taught us. We would also like to thank the entire staff for their dedication, and for putting up with us demanding editors. Joanna, Maryam, Gina, Ramin, Jeff, Jon, Joe, Franchi, Maria, Claudia, Kathy, Maya, Kristin, Gabi, Fannie, Nausheen, Jessica, David, James, Kim, Erica, Faith, Lisa, and Mark-You guys did an outstanding job. We also would like to express many thanks to Geoff Skidmore and Matt Booher for all their help and advice. You were always there when we needed you. And to Jostens and Daniel Reynold's Photographics-Thank You a gazillion times. We would also like to give special thanks to Lira, Hanna, Kelli, and Elaine for helping us "wrap it up." Our biggest thanks goes to the entire student body and faculty of Washington-How could we forget you guys? Thank you for purchasing this book and giving us your support. We constantly interrupted classes, and we greatly appreciate all of the cooperation throughout the year. And to all of the office staff for helping us identify all of those nameless faces. And to Mr. Mangini and Mrs. Jung for all of your extra support. We would also like to take this time to say good luck to next years editors. You are about to embark on a long, frustrating journey. But it'll all be worth it in the end. Bringing together all the pieces of this yearbook has been a stressful, frustrating task. But we hope that this book will reflect your year here at Washington, and in 30 years from now, when you pull this book out of your dusty attic, that it will bring back a lifetime of cherished memories. Goodbye and congratulations to the class of 1997 Katie Wong and Jason Hunter Editors-in-Chief (King and Queen of Yearbook) Disclaimer: If any contents of this book is found offensive, the yearbook staff offers its deepest apologies.
